Guest Responsibility

We request that you arrive in a healthy state, with the required gear as set out on the equipment check list and an enthusiastic open mind for adventure travel. All of our trips, in some degree, have an exploratory nature to them and we ask participants to have an awareness of group harmony and willingness to laugh and have fun when encountering the unexpected.

Our guides are professionals in their fields and will provide outdoor instruction as required. Liquid Adventures trips require no previous paddling experience from you unless specifically noted. A sincere self-evaluation and some pre-trip conditioning can go a long-way in regards to the type of experience you have in the outdoors, and we encourage you to prepare for your adventure. It is imperative that persons with medical conditions make them known to Liquid Adventures as far in advance to trip departure as possible. You will be provided with a medical form in the registration packet and we ask that you be thorough when completing this form. Throughout the trip you will be responsible to adhere to the directions of the professional guides whom are leading the trip. This is for your safety as well as, the safety of the group and the guides. If you are asked to leave the trip for any reason, you are solely responsible for all costs incurred as a result of your actions and no refund will be given.

Terms and Conditions

Weather Conditions:

Our tours operate in various weather conditions, including rain. We operate in a temperate rainforest and do not often cancel trips or offer refunds for clients who opt out on rainy days. Please come prepared for the expected weather, wearing appropriate clothing and footwear.

Physical Fitness:

You must have a sufficient level of physical fitness to participate in our tours. Every tour has a different level of physical exertion required from our guests. Please be sure that you are comfortable with what is expected of you on the trip that you are booking. If you have any questions or concerns, give us a call or reach out to us before you book! Consult a medical professional if you have serious concerns about your fitness level or any existing medical conditions.

Assumption of Risk:

Outdoor activities involve inherent risks, such as rugged terrain and unpredictable weather. By participating, you acknowledge and accept these risks.

Safety:

Our guides will provide instructions and guidance during the tour. You must follow all safety instructions provided by our guides and staff.

Liability:

This company, its affiliates, and staff shall not be liable for any injuries, damages, or losses incurred during the tour. You release this company from any claims arising from your participation. Please read and understand these terms before participating in our tours.

Cancellation Policy

Cancellation Policy

We feel it is important that our clients understand that we commit a large amount of our trip costs well in advance of trip departure dates, and that others may have been turned away because the trip is full. Of course we regret the receipt of any cancellations and make an effort to keep our policies as flexible and understanding as possible. Therefore, upon receiving written notice of your cancellation, refunds will be issued according to the following schedule:

For notice received:

- A. More than 14 days prior to departure date, full refund.
- B. 2-14 days prior to departure we will charge your card 50% of the total trip cost.
- C. Fewer than 48 hours prior to departure the full amount will be retained.

Cancelled Trips

Because of the nature of operating in remote wilderness areas, Liquid Adventures reserves the right to cancel any trip prior to departure for any reason whatsoever, including logistical problems that may impede trip operations. In such cases a full refund will be made of the amount paid to Liquid Adventures. If any trip has to be altered or delayed beyond our reasonable control, the additional cost of changes and delays are the responsibility of the participant. No refunds will be issued for unused services, lodging, meals, transportation, or charters. No amount of the trip will be refunded after the trip has departed. Liquid Adventures reserves the right to alter itineraries at any time for any reason, if the participant withdraws as a result of the alteration, no amount will be refunded.
